

$55,000 NOW AVAILABLE FOR NEGRO EXPOSITION

Congressional Appropriation for Historical and Industrial Association's Celebration.

DESIGNATE LOCAL DEPOSITORY

Matter Rests in Hands of Governor Stuart—Fiftieth Anniversary of Emancipation Will Be Observed at Fort Lee.

The appropriation of $55,000 made by the last Congress for the Negro Exposition, to be held next year at Fort Lee in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the emancipation is now available. The money will be at the disposal of the Negro Historical and Industrial Association as soon as Governor Stuart designates a depository in Richmond for the cash.

The news was received here yesterday and caused jubilation among the promoters of the exposition and the officers and managers of the projected enterprise.

The official announcement was made by Acting Comptroller of the United States Treasury Warwick, who directed that the money be turned over to whatever depository the Governor may name. Immediately the money is deposited, it becomes available for the uses to which the association desire to apply it. The fund must be drawn upon the treasurer of the association, but then only with the approval of Governor Stuart. It will be necessary for the treasurer to submit vouchers for the expenditures to the Governor. Preparations for the Negro Emancipation Exposition have been long in progress, but actual construction has been delayed because the $55,000 appropriated by Congress was not available. Nevertheless a great deal of preliminary work has been rushed forward.

It was learned last night that Governor Stuart does not contemplate designating the depository for the exposition money until the treasurer of the Negro Historical and Industrial Association has given the bond required of him. This bond is intended to protect the amount deposited to the association's credit.

Giles B. Jackson, a negro lawyer, of Richmond, is the president of the association, and H. H. Price, a printer, the secretary-treasurer.

BRITISH SHIP DISABLED BY GERMAN CRUISER

Lieutenant in Kaiser's Army Tells of Success of the Karlsruhe Against Merchants.

NEW YORK, September 5.—The German cruiser Karlsruhe engaged and badly disabled the British cruiser Bristol off the coast of Haiti, according to H. H. Weisner, a lieutenant of the German army, and leader of seventy-eight Germans, who arrived here today on the Clyde Line steamship Algonquin, from Puerto Colombia, on their way to join the colors.

The German lieutenant also said that a Dutch skipper had brought word to Puerto Colombia, that the Karlsruhe had met and sunk the British cruiser Glasgow, off the Colombian coast. This, however, he said, was denied by British officials in Georgetown. Before meeting with the Bristol, Lieutenant Weisner asserted, the Karlsruhe captured two British steamships, transferred their passengers, crew and stores to the cruiser, and then sent the ships to the bottom.

After sinking the merchantmen, the Karlsruhe sailed to a small island in the Caribbean Sea, off the port of Baranquilla, Colombia, and there landed the people taken from the British ships. Sufficient food for a month was also left on the islands. The marooned passengers and crew may be on the island yet, Lieutenant Weisner said. He had not heard that they had been taken off.

The Bowes Castle, a British freighter, also has been sunk by the Karlsruhe off Maranhao, St. Lucia Island, according to a cablegram received here today from Liverpool.

According to the cablegram which was received by J. F. Whitney & Co., steamship agents, the captain and crew of the Bowes Castle were taken off before the guns of the cruiser sent her to the bottom. They were safely landed at Maranhao.

OFFICIAL DENIAL OF USE OF DUM DUM BULLETS

Neither the British nor the French army has been in possession of, or has issued any but the approved patterns of rifle and revolver ammunition, which do not infringe on the provisions of The Hague convention."

I want to express my thanks to the Association for the full and prompt payment of my benefit. It seems to me that every person working for a livelihood should be a member of the Anchor.

AMERICAN WOMEN ACTIVE IN RELIEVING DISTRESS

Establishing Workshops in London Where Wives of Soldiers Can Find Work at Living Wages.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] LONDON, September 5.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the Secretary of State, whose husband is an officer in the British army, told today of the plans of the American women's war fund, of which she is an enthusiastic member. This is a body of American women living in London, which was organized at Marlborough as its chairman, with the primary object of equipping the magnificent country house of Paris Singer as a war hospital.

Funds exceeding $100,000 have been subscribed for this purpose already, and the hospital is fully equipped and sufficiently endowed to run for six months without additional financial support.

The secondary object—the purchasing, equipping and manning of a hospital boat—will be achieved within a few days, Mrs. Owen says, contributions for this purpose having reached a total of nearly $40,000.

"But our organization has developed another side of activity," she continued, "which promises splendid results. All over London, as fast as we can get the money and the poor women for the work, we are establishing workshops wherein the poor women of the neighborhood and the wives of soldiers at the front can find work at living wages making garments for the wounded."

"This branch I am especially interested in, and I am developing the idea—a place in connection with each workshop where the mothers may put their children and know that they will be looked after properly while they are at work."

BALTIMORE TO BE SCENE OF GREAT CELEBRATION

Festival Will Mark Centennial of Birth of "The Star Spangled Banner."

IN PROGRESS AN ENTIRE WEEK

Naval Show, Military Parades and Ball, Athletic Events and Many Other Attractive and Imposing Events on Elaborate Program.

BALTIMORE, September 5.—The festival arranged for the celebration here of the centennial of the birth of the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the successful defense of Baltimore at North Point and Fort Mifflin, which were the final battles which preceded the treaty of Ghent, will begin tomorrow. The celebration will continue a full week, during which, in addition to the two historical events commemorated, a century of progress will be reviewed. The celebration will represent an outlay of $1,000,000.

Historic Fort Mifflin, abandoned as an army post by the Federal government, has been, through the activities of the centennial commission, turned over to the city to be used as a public park. Congress recently appropriated $75,000 for the erection on the reservation of a monument to Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The opening of the festival tomorrow will be marked by a sacred concert and special commemorative services in all the churches.

During the week there will be a naval show, which will include almost every type of vessel from the frigate Constellation, launched at Baltimore in 1797, to the superdreadnought Florida. Two of the athletic events of the year, the track and field championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, and the Middle States Regatta, will be held.

during the week. Land and water carnivals, military and industrial parades, historical and fraternal society pageants, municipal floral automobile displays, Colonial lawn parties, tournaments, a reproduction in fireworks of the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, patriotic meetings, dedications of monuments and tablets and other events will be part of the program.

Through the State Department at Washington foreign nations were invited to participate in the ceremonies. While the war in Europe will prevent the countries involved taking part, practically all of the neutral powers have signified their intention of being represented.

The Governors of thirty States and the Mayors of fifty cities have named delegates to attend the celebration. Among the Governors who expect to come to Baltimore are David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts; Simon E. Baldwin, of Connecticut; John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania; Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia; Charles R. Miller, of Delaware; Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina; Eliott W. Major, of Missouri; Edward P. Dunne, of Illinois; and Joseph M. Carey, of Wyoming. Governor Martin H. Glynn, of New York, will be represented by Adjutant-General Henry D. Hamilton and six members of the Governor's staff.

The social function of the week will be the military ball at the Fifth Regiment Armory on Friday evening, when visiting Governors, members of the Cabinet, members of the diplomatic corps and visiting army and naval officers will be the guests of honor.

"There's a Reason" The Story of Two Ladies

One of these ladies came into our store about mid-summer, and after looking around painstakingly several weeks, selected the Furniture and Rugs for her new home. We have gotten in her purchases, and when you look at them you can almost see her in the individuality, neatness of design and beauty and quality of the goods she bought.

The other lady came into our store only once, and asked if we handled a certain line of furniture. She had been shopping around, and was evidently looking for a cheap bargain. She did not know that the Furniture in which she was interested was of a cheaper imitation sort, and in no way suitable for her new home. We advised her against it, and stated our reasons very plainly. The result is that she now has a complete fine home—not simply a fine house—and she will never have to buy Furniture again.

Our enormous stock and our past 35 years' experience in selling all classes of Furniture and Rugs is your best guarantee in buying a class of goods that you buy but few times during life, and, remember, that you live with your Furniture—it's with you day and night—not only that, but your friends judge you by the furnishings of your home.

When you buy Furniture and Rugs come to see us first—our salesmen are polite, well trained and patient, and will be glad to advise with you.
